Obviously Valve's own games are possible to register on Steam Call of Duty: Modern Warfare 2 also comes to mind since that one has to be played via Steam.. Counter-strike 1 6 Non SteamNon Steam GamesActive10 months agoAfter payment you will get a link by which you can get the license key (CD KEY) out of the box with the game Torchlight 2 from the official distributor - the company '1C-SoftKlab' to activate the system STEAM.

That being said, I know that several game distribution companies are leaning more toward digital distribution, with[Steam holding a large chunk of that market.. I personally do not like to purchase games digitally There's just something magical about going to the store, picking up a boxed game, staring at the amazing box art, bringing the game home and putting the disc in the drive..) ?arghtype6,5131010 gold badges3030 silver badges5555 bronze badgescowgodcowgod5,4411212 gold badges4343 silver badges7272 bronze badges 3 Answers It depends on what game it is.. Is it possible to buy a retail boxed copy of a game, but still get the benefits of Steam (automatic updates, install on multiple computers, etc.

The screenshot shows the 'Runic Account Manager – My Products & Keys' interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs for 'Home' and 'Manage My Account'. Below this, there are sub-tabs for 'My Account Details' and 'Register Torchlight II'. The main content area is divided into two sections. On the left, a 'Welcome' message is followed by a registration prompt: 'Register your copy of Torchlight II to access our free peer-to-peer matchmaking service for internet play.' Below this is a large button labeled 'Register Torchlight II for Internet Play'. On the right, the 'My Products' section displays 'Torchlight II' with the status 'Linked via Steam' and a button to 'Check my Steam Account for Games'. At the bottom of the main content area, there is a promotional banner: 'If you don't yet own Torchlight II, Get the free Demo or Purchase Torchlight II today!' and a link to the support site: 'If you have an issue registering a key, please visit our support site.' The footer contains links for 'Terms of Use' and 'Privacy Policy', a 'Support [2]' link, and a copyright notice: 'Torchlight II © 2012 Runic Games, Inc. All Rights Reserved.
